

Contemporary philosophy

A new survey

edited by

GUTTORM FLØISTAD

University of Oslo

Volume 5
African philosophy

Contents/Table des matières

G. Fløistad, Preface	vii
G. Fløistad, Introduction	1
L. Outlaw, African ‘Philosophy’: Deconstructive and reconstructive challenges	9
H. Odera Oruka, African Philosophy: A brief personal history and current debate	45
L. Keita, African philosophy in context: A reply to Hountondji’s ‘Que Peut la Philosophie’	79
G. Munda Carew, Myths, symbols and other life-worlds: The limits of empiricism	99
D. N. Kaphagawani, The philosophical significance of Bantu nomenclature: A shot at contemporary African philos- ophy	121
K. Wiredy, The concept of mind with particular reference to the language and thought of the Akans	153
D. A. Masolo, Alexis Kagame and African socio-linguistics	181

K. Appiah, Old Gods, new worlds: Some recent work in the philosophy of African traditional religion	207
K. C. Anyanwu, The idea of art in African thought	235
N. Wahba, Rationalism in the contemporary Arab world	261
W. E. Abraham, African philosophy: Its proto-history and future history	277
Index of names	297
Index of subjects	301