

History of Philosophy

BY

WILLIAM TURNER, S.T.D.

GINN AND COMPANY

BOSTON · NEW YORK · CHICAGO · LONDON
ATLANTA · DALLAS · COLUMBUS · SAN FRANCISCO

CONTENTS

	<small>PAGE</small>
INTRODUCTION: Definition, Method, Sources, Division of the History of Philosophy	I

PART I

ANCIENT PHILOSOPHY

SECTION A — ORIENTAL PHILOSOPHY

Babylonia and Assyria	7
Egypt	9
China	12
India	15
Persia	26

SECTION B — GREEK AND GRECO-ROMAN PHILOSOPHY

FIRST PERIOD — PRE-SOCRATIC PHILOSOPHY

	<small>CHAPTER</small>
I. Earlier Ionian School: Thales, Anaximander, Anaximenes	34
II. The Pythagorean School	38
III. The Eleatic School: Xenophanes, Parmenides, Zeno, Melissus	44
IV. Later Ionian Philosophers: Heraclitus, Empedocles, Anax-agoras	53
V. The Atomists: Leucippus, Democritus	65
VI. The Sophists: Protagoras, Gorgias, Hippias, Prodicus	70

SECOND PERIOD — SOCRATES AND THE SOCRATIC SCHOOLS

VII. Socrates	77
VIII. The Imperfectly Socratic Schools: The Megarian School, The Elean School, The Cynics, The Hedonists	84
IX. Plato	93
X. The Platonic Schools: Old, Middle, and New Academies	121
XI. Aristotle	124
XII. The Peripatetic School	158

THIRD PERIOD—POST-ARISTOTELIAN PHILOSOPHY

CHAPTER		PAGE
XIII.	The Stoics	163
XIV.	The Epicureans	175
XV.	The Sceptics: Pyrrho, The Middle Academy, The Later Sceptics	184
XVI.	The Eclectics	187
XVII.	The Scientific Movement	188
XVIII.	Philosophy of the Romans: Cicero Character of Greek Philosophy	189 194

SECTION C—GRECO-ORIENTAL PHILOSOPHY

XIX.	Greco-Jewish Philosophy: Aristobulus, Philo	200
XX.	Neo-Pythagoreanism and Neo-Platonism	204

PART IIPHILOSOPHY OF THE CHRISTIAN ERA

INTRODUCTION	215
------------------------	-----

SECTION A—PATRISTIC PHILOSOPHY

XXI.	Heretical Systems: Gnosticism, Manicheism	218
XXII.	Ante-Nicene Fathers: Clement, Origen	220
XXIII.	Post-Nicene Fathers: Pseudo-Dionysius, St. John of Damascus, St. Augustine	222

SECTION B—SCHOLASTIC PHILOSOPHYFIRST PERIOD OF SCHOLASTICISM: ERIGENA TO ROSCELIN

XXIV.	First Masters of the Schools: Alcuin, Fredegis, Rha- banus Maurus	244
XXV.	John Scotus Erigena	246
XXVI.	Gerbert	257
XXVII.	The School of Auxerre: Eric, Remi, Author of Glosses .	261

SECOND PERIOD OF SCHOLASTICISM: ROSCELIN TO ALEXANDER OF HALES

XXVIII.	Predecessors of Roscelin	268
XXIX.	Roscelin	269
XXX.	St. Anselm	272
XXXI.	William of Champeaux, The Indifferentists: Otto of Tournai, Adelard of Bath, Walter of Mortagne	279

CONTENTS

ix

CHAPTER	PAGE
- XXXII. Abelard	285
XXXIII. The School of Chartres: Bernard and Theodoric of Chartres, William of Conches, Gilbert de la Porrée .	292
XXXIV. Eclectics: John of Salisbury, Peter the Lombard, Alanus of Lille, Gerard of Cremona	299
XXXV. The Mystic School: St. Bernard; Hugh, Richard, and Walter, of St. Victor	302
XXXVI. The Pantheistic School: Bernard of Tours, Amaury of Bène, David of Dinant	306
Byzantine, Arabian, and Jewish Philosophy	310

THIRD PERIOD OF SCHOLASTICISM: ALEXANDER OF HALES TO OCKAM

XXXVII. Predecessors of St. Thomas: Simon of Tournai, Alexander Neckam, Alfred Sereshel, William of Auvergne, Alexander of Hales, John de la Rochelle, St. Bonaventure, Roger Bacon, Albert the Great	324
- XXXVIII. St. Thomas of Aquin	343
XXXIX. Thomists and Anti-Thomists	381
XL. Henry of Ghent	384
- XLI. John Duns Scotus	387
- XLII. Averroism in the Schools: Siger of Brabant, Boetius the Dacian, Bernier of Nivelles, Raymond Lully	393

FOURTH PERIOD OF SCHOLASTICISM: BIRTH OF OCKAM TO TAKING OF CONSTANTINOPLE

XLIII. Predecessors of Ockam: Durandus, Aureolus	400
- XLIV. William of Ockam	404
XLV. Followers and Opponents of Ockam: John Buridan, Peter d'Ailly, Raymond of Sabunde, etc.	408
XLVI. The Mystic School: Orthodox Mystics, Heterodox Mystics	411
XLVII. Nicholas of Autrecourt	415
Character of Scholastic Philosophy	417

SECTION C—MODERN PHILOSOPHY

FIRST PERIOD—TRANSITION FROM SCHOLASTIC TO MODERN PHILOSOPHY

XLVIII. Scholastics of the Transition Period: Cajetan, Suarez, etc.	424
XLIX. The Humanists: Pletho, Bessarion, Valla, etc.	425

CONTENTS

CHAPTER	PAGE
L. Italian Philosophy of Nature: Cardano, Telesio, Bruno, Campanella	428
LI. The Scientific Movement: Copernicus, Kepler, Galileo, etc.	432
LII. Protestant Mysticism: Luther, Zwingli, Böhme, etc.	438
LIII. Systems of Political Philosophy: Machiavelli, More, Bodin, Hobbes	441
 SECOND PERIOD — FROM DESCARTES TO KANT
LIV. Descartes	447
LV. Cartesianism: Pascal, Geulincx, Malebranche	462
LVI. Spinoza	466
LVII. English Empiricism: Locke, Newton, The Deistic Controversy	486
LVIII. British Moralists	495
LIX. French Empiricism	500
LX. The Idealistic Movement: Leibniz, Berkeley	505
LXI. Pan-Phenomenalism — Hume	518
LXII. German Illumination — Transition to Kant	524
 THIRD PERIOD — FROM KANT TO OUR OWN TIME
XLIII. German Philosophy: Kant	528
XLIV. German Philosophy (continued): The Kantians, The Romantic Movement, Fichte, Schelling	548
LXV. German Philosophy (continued): Hegel, The Hegelians	560
LXVI. German Philosophy (continued): The Reaction against Hegel; Herbart, Schopenhauer	583
LXVII. The Scottish School: Reid, Brown, Stewart, etc.	592
LXVIII. French Philosophy: The Traditionalists, The Eclectics, The Positivists, The Sociologists	602
LXIX. English Philosophy: The Association School, Utilitarianism, Evolution, Idealism	613
LXX. Italian Philosophy: Vico, Galuppi, Rosmini, Gioberti, etc.	630
LXXI. American Philosophy: Edwards, McCosh, Brownson, etc.	634
LXXII. Catholic Philosophy in the Nineteenth Century: The Neo-Scholastic Movement	637
LXXIII. Contemporary Philosophy in Germany, France, England, Italy, America	644
LXXIV. Conclusion	653
INDEX	661