

The PASSION
of the WESTERN MIND

Understanding the Ideas
That Have Shaped Our World View

Richard Tarnas

HARMONY BOOKS
NEW YORK

Contents

Preface	xi
Introduction	1
I THE GREEK WORLD VIEW	3
The Archetypal Forms	6
Ideas and Gods	13
The Evolution of the Greek Mind from Homer to Plato	16
The Mythic Vision	16
The Birth of Philosophy	19
The Greek Enlightenment	25
Socrates	31
The Platonic Hero	35
The Philosopher's Quest and the Universal Mind	41
The Problem of the Planets	48
Aristotle and the Greek Balance	55
The Dual Legacy	69
II THE TRANSFORMATION OF THE CLASSICAL ERA	73
Crosscurrents of the Hellenistic Matrix	75
The Decline and Preservation of the Greek Mind	75
Astronomy	79
Astrology	81
Neoplatonism	84
Rome	87
The Emergence of Christianity	89
III THE CHRISTIAN WORLD VIEW	91
Judaic Monotheism and the Divinization of History	94
Classical Elements and the Platonic Inheritance	98
The Conversion of the Pagan Mind	106
Contraries Within the Christian Vision	120
Exultant Christianity	125
Dualistic Christianity	130

Further Contraries and the Augustinian Legacy	138
Matter and Spirit	138
Augustine	143
Law and Grace	148
Athens and Jerusalem	151
The Holy Spirit and Its Vicissitudes	155
Rome and Catholicism	158
The Virgin Mary and the Mother Church	162
A Summing Up	165
 IV THE TRANSFORMATION OF THE MEDIEVAL ERA	171
The Scholastic Awakening	175
The Quest of Thomas Aquinas	179
Further Developments in the High Middle Ages	191
The Rising Tide of Secular Thought	191
Astronomy and Dante	193
The Secularization of the Church and the Rise of Lay Mysticism	196
Critical Scholasticism and Ockham's Razor	200
The Rebirth of Classical Humanism	209
Petrarch	209
The Return of Plato	211
At the Threshold	220
 V THE MODERN WORLD VIEW	223
The Renaissance	224
The Reformation	233
The Scientific Revolution	248
Copernicus	248
The Religious Reaction	251
Kepler	254
Galileo	258
The Forging of Newtonian Cosmology	261
The Philosophical Revolution	272
Bacon	272
Descartes	275
Foundations of the Modern World View	282
Ancients and Moderns	291

The Triumph of Secularism	298
Science and Religion: The Early Concord	298
Compromise and Conflict	301
Philosophy, Politics, Psychology	308
The Modern Character	318
Hidden Continuities	320

VI THE TRANSFORMATION OF THE MODERN ERA	325
The Changing Image of the Human from Copernicus
Through Freud	326
The Self-Critique of the Modern Mind	333
From Locke to Hume	333
Kant	341
The Decline of Metaphysics	351
The Crisis of Modern Science	355
Romanticism and Its Fate	366
The Two Cultures	366
The Divided World View	375
Attempted Syntheses: From Goethe and Hegel to Jung	378
Existentialism and Nihilism	388
The Postmodern Mind	395
At the Millennium	411

VII EPILOGUE	415
The Post-Copernican Double Bind	416
Knowledge and the Unconscious	422
The Evolution of World Views	433
Bringing It All Back Home	441

CHRONOLOGY	446
------------	-----

NOTES	468
-------	-----

BIBLIOGRAPHY	493
--------------	-----

ACKNOWLEDGMENTS	512
-----------------	-----

INDEX	514
-------	-----