

Philosophies of Judaism

The history of Jewish philosophy from Biblical times to Franz Rosenzweig

Julius Guttman

Introduction by
R. J. Zwi Werblowsky
Translated by David W. Silverman

Holt, Rinehart and Winston
New York Chicago San Francisco

Contents

Introduction	vii
I Fundamentals and First Influences
1. The Basic Ideas of Biblical Religion	3
2. Jewish Hellenistic Philosophy	18
3. The Religious Ideas of Talmudic Judaism	30
II Jewish Religious Philosophy in the Middle Ages
1. The Rise of Jewish Philosophy in the Islamic World	47
First Beginnings	56
2. The Kalam	61
Saadia	61
The Development of the Kalam in Rabbanite and Karaite Judaism	73
3. Neoplatonism	84
Isaac Israeli	84
Solomon ibn Gabirol	89
Bahya ibn Pakuda	104
The Twelfth-Century Neoplatonists	110
Judah Halevi	120
4. Aristotelianism and Its Opponents	134
The Concepts of God and the World in Aristotelianism and in Revealed Religion	134
Abraham ibn Daud	143
> Moses Maimonides	152
> The Struggle Against Philosophy in the Hundred Years After Maimonides; the Philosophic Influence of Maimonides and Averroës	183
> Levi ben Gerson	208
Hasdai Crescas	224

5.	The End and Aftereffects of Medieval Religious Philosophy	242
	{ The End of Jewish Philosophy in Spain	242
	{ Jewish Philosophy in Italy	256
	{ The Influence of Jewish Philosophy on the System of Spinoza	265
III	Jewish Philosophy of Religion in the Modern Era
	Introduction	289
1.	Moses Mendelssohn	291
2.	Post-Kantian Idealism in Jewish Philosophy of Religion	304
	Solomon Formstecher	308
	Samuel Hirsch	313
	Nachman Krochmal	321
	Solomon Ludwig Steinheim	344
3.	The Renewal of Jewish Religious Philosophy at the End of the Nineteenth Century	350
	Moritz Lazarus	350
	Hermann Cohen	352
	Franz Rosenzweig	367
	Bibliography	399
	Notes	413
	Index	453