

Indian Philosophy in English

From Renaissance to Independence

---

Edited by

NALINI BHUSHAN
JAY L. GARFIELD

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

Acknowledgments

ix

Introduction: Whose Voice? Whose Tongue? Philosophy in English in Colonial India

xiii

PART ONE: National Identity

1. Pandits and Professors: The Renaissance of Secular India	3
2. Rabindranath Tagore, “Nationalism in India” (1917)	21
3. Aurobindo Ghosh, “The Renaissance in India” (1918)	37
4. A. K. Coomaraswamy, “Indian Nationality” (1909)	67
5. Lajpat Rai, “Reform or Revival?” (1904)	75
6. Bhagavan Das, “The Meaning of Swaraj or Self-government” (1921)	85
7. K. C. Bhattacharyya, “Svaraj In Ideas” (1928)	101

PART TWO: Aesthetics

1. A. K. Coomaraswamy, “Art and Swadeshi” (1910)	115
2. Aurobindo Ghosh, “ The Future Poetry ” (1917–1918)	121
3. R. Tagore, “Pathway to Mukti ” (1925)	151
4. B. K. Sarkar, “View-Points in Aesthetics” (1922)	165
5. K. C. Bhattacharyya, “The Concept of Rasa ” (1930)	193
M. Hiriyanna:
6. “Indian Aesthetics 2” (1954)	209
7. “Art Experience 2” (1951)	217
8. An Indian in Paris: Cosmopolitan Aesthetics in Colonial India	231

PART THREE: Vedānta

1. R. D. Ranade, “The Problem of Ultimate Reality in the Upaniṣads” (1926)	245
2. Vivekananda, “Jñāna Yoga” (1915)	269
3. A. C. Mukerji, “Absolute Consciousness” (1938)	323
4. Ras Bihari Das, “The Falsity of the World” (1940)	353
5. S. S. Suryanarayana Sastri, “Advaita, Causality and Human Freedom” (1940)	363
6. A. C. Mukerji, “Śaṅkara’s Theory of Consciousness” (1937)	393
7. V. S. Iyer, “Śaṅkara’s Philosophy” (1955)	407
8. P. T. Raju, “Scepticism and Its Place in Śaṅkara’s Philosophy” (1937)	425
9. Bringing Brahman Down to Earth: Līlāvāda in Colonial India	435

PART FOUR: Metaphysics and Epistemology

1. The Plato of Allahabad: A. C. Mukerji’s Contributions to Indian and to World Philosophy	455
2. A. C. Mukerji, “The Realist’s Conception of Idealism” (1927)	471
3. Hiralal Haldar, “Realistic Idealism” (1930)	499
4. K. C. Bhattacharyya, “The Concept of Philosophy” (1936)	515
5. M. Hiriyanna, “The Problem of Truth” (1930)	535
6. G. R. Malkani, “Philosophical Truth” (1949)	553
7. A. C. Mukerji, “Traditional Epistemology” (1950)	583

PART FIVE: A Session of the Indian Philosophical Congress at Amalner, 1950

Symposium: Has Aurobindo Refuted Māyāvāda? Indra Sen, N. A. Nikam, Haridas Chaudhuri, and G. R. Malkani	593
A Bibliography of Significant Work in Indian Philosophy from the Colonial Period and the Immediate Post-Independence Period	630
Index	639