

A HISTORY OF WOMEN'S POLITICAL THOUGHT IN EUROPE, 1700–1800

KAREN GREEN

SUB Hamburg

A 2015/ 239

CAMBRIDGE
UNIVERSITY PRESS

Contents

Acknowledgements	page vi
Introduction	I
1 Early eighteenth-century debates: from Anne Dacier to Catharine Trotter Cockburn	14
2 Mary Delariviere Manley, Mary Wortley Montagu, and Eliza Haywood: sexuality and politics in the works of Whig and Tory women	43
3 From the marquise de Lambert to Françoise de Graffigny: the ideology of the salons	63
4 Enlightenment women in Italy	90
5 From Hanover and Leipzig to Russia	102
6 Women's moral mission and the Bluestocking circle	131
7 Responses to Jean-Jacques Rousseau: from Octavie Belot to Germaine de Staël	153
8 Radical English women: from Catharine Macaulay to Helen Maria Williams	172
9 Anticipating and experiencing the revolution in France	203
10 Women and revolution in Italy, Germany, and Holland	235
Conclusion	250
Bibliography	259
Index	296