

THE AGE OF IDEOLOGIES

A History of Political Thought in the Twentieth Century

KARL DIETRICH BRACHER

Translated from the German by Ewald Osers

St. Martin's Press
New York

CONTENTS

Preface	ix
Preface to the English Edition	x
Introduction: Ideology and Progress	i

Part I THE TURN OF THE CENTURY Signposts to the Modern Age

1. The Ideological Legacy	9
2. Progress and Irrationalism	17
3. Political Religions and the Belief in Race	26
4. Harbingers of the Great Crisis	39
5. Theories of Alienation, Theories of Élites	50
6. Changes in Liberalism	62
7. Social Democratic Reformism	69

Part II THE INTER-WAR YEARS Intellectuals and Dictatorships

1. Authoritarian and Totalitarian Thought	81
2. The Ideological Post-war Period, Intellectual Seductions	87
3. Dictatorship as a Concept: Fascism, National Socialism and Communism Compared	101
4. Totalitarian Progressivism on the Right and the Left	116
5. Forms of Crisis Thought	130
6. The Struggle for Values and Orientations	147
7. Problems of the Democratic Idea	166
8. Authoritarianism and Dictatorship: from the First to the Second Post-war Period	176

Part III THE PRESENT
De-ideologization and Re-ideologization

1. Post-war Experience: Re-evaluation and Reconstruction	189
2. New Orientations towards the World: Ideological Departures of the Sixties	203
3. Changing Opinions and Political Culture in the Seventies	219
4. Contested Principles of Democratic Theory	231
5. Between Communism and Democracy: Transitional Variants of Thought	245
6. Ideologies from the First to the Third World	260
Index of Names	279
General Index	293