

A 334156

VICTORIAN POLITICAL THOUGHT

H. S. JONES

CONTENTS

Introduction	ix
1 Economic Men: Political Economy and Political Thought	1
Sources of Classical Liberalism	3
Critics of Political Economy	21
John Stuart Mill: Political Economy, History and Social Science	26
Individualism and Beyond	30
Continuity and Change in Victorian Political Thought	40
2 The State of the Nation: History, Culture and Democracy	43
Liberal Anglicanism	44
Whig History and Englishness	52
Seeley and 'Nation-Liberal' Historiography	55
Religion and Identity	59
Culture and Democracy: Matthew Arnold versus Bagehot	63
3 The Discovery of Society: Evolution, Ethics and the State	74
Organicism, Social Evolution and the State	75
Evolution and Ethics	81
Idealism and Society	87
Gender, the Family and the Moral Life	93
Critics of the Ethical Polity	106
Notes	114
Chronology	124
Guide to Leading Thinkers	126
Glossary of Terms	131
Further Reading	134
Index	138