

The Global Voices Experience | Finance

The Global Voices Experience caters for talent at all levels, from those still at university and working towards a degree level qualification, to those who have finished their degrees and are looking to begin their careers. If you're still studying and would like to gain 3 to 6 months of experience working in a company, you may want to consider the Global Voices Internship Programme. Otherwise, if you've finished university and are looking to begin a career with us, you may want to consider the Global Voices Future Leaders Programme.

Global Voices Internship Programme | Finance

Every year, Global Voices can offer a select few top-performing graduates and university student placements at our head office in Stirling, Scotland, United Kingdom, in order to train and develop talent. You'll gain behind the scenes experience of how an incredibly successful company operates, and you'll get the chance to learn from experienced leaders in various departments.

Global Voices has gained a reputation for teaching graduates highly regarded skills, and giving valuable experience at a prestigious, and well-respected company.

We use the Global Voices Internship Programme to educate, but also to look out for top-performing individuals who are looking for a career! During your internship you may be given the opportunity to move into the Future Leaders Programme (depending on availability) should you wish to consider a career with us. You'll also be given the chance to win a brand-new Apple iPad!
